Huberty Wins Williams Endorsement Senator Tommy Williams Endorses Dan Huberty

Kingwood – Dan Huberty announced today that he has won the Williams endorsement. House District 127 is completely contained in Tommy Williams’ Senate District 4.

“I am particularly proud to have the endorsement from Senator Williams, and I know that its impact on the race cannot be minimized. Tommy Williams is a significant leader in Austin and is actively engaged in the District. The people of HD127 know and appreciate Tommy Williams and have tremendous respect for the job he does in Austin,” Huberty exclaimed.

"Dan Huberty will make a great State Representative. He has the leadership skills it takes to represent District 127. I ask you to join me in supporting Dan to be your next State Representative," said Senator Tommy Williams.

“Having Senator Williams’ support is important. But I am also pleased to note that Senator Williams and Senator Patrick are co-hosting fundraising events for our campaign in Austin and in Houston next week,” Huberty continued. “These two distinguished Senators join the list of every major conservative group in Harris County who is backing me, and their support will be felt at the ballot box on Election Day.

“My opponent Ms. Curling, has savagely attacked me for more than a month. Her claims of improper behavior were shot down by the Harris County District Attorney. Now her claims that I am not the most conservative candidate in the race are laid to rest by my State Senator.

“I will continue to work hard in the community, and will continue to run a positive campaign, talking about the issues that matter to the people in District 127 all the way to Election Day” Huberty concluded.
